WOMEN NETTERS
PLAY TWICE THIS WEEK

MISSOULA--

Coming off their first Northwest Women's Basketball League victory, the University of Montana women's basketball team will be at home Thursday, January 25, to host Montana Tech at 7:30 p.m. in Adams Field House.

It will be only the fourth home game in 12 outings for coach Robin Selvig's women's basketball team. The Grizzlies are 5-7 overall and 1-2 in conference.

UM will resume NWBL action Friday, January 26th, when they travel to Bozeman to play rival Montana State. Tipoff is at 7 p.m. MSU is 3-10 overall, 2-2 in league.

"I think now the girls are going to understand what it takes to win, and now they know what it feels like to win," said Selvig after the Grizzlies' 60-45 league win over Boise State last Saturday evening. "I think they had forgotten that."

Junior center Linda Deden, from Missoula, was instrumental in the win, scoring a game-high 18 points and grabbing eight rebounds. Candie Stevens, a junior from Great Falls hauled down an impressive 17 rebounds, accounting a lot for the 53-35 rebounding advantage by UM.

UM was given good news recently when injured sophomore Sandy Selvig, who was reportedly out for five to 10 weeks, will reportedly be back in action as early as two weeks. Selvig severely injured her ankle in the team's recent loss to Washington State.

UM's top scorer is Deden with a 12.6 average, followed by Selvig (12.3) and Cheryl Sandbak (7.1). Selvig is the top rebounder with an 8.3 average.

The Grizzlies will return home January 30 to host Flathead Valley CC. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.
